Availability

There may be technical or commercial reasons that affect our ability to connect a service. Until Sumo successfully installs your service we cannot guarantee that the service can be connected at your address.

Installation

There is no charge for a standard installation. A standard installation typically requires the property to have an existing telephone line and known telephone number to connect the service. Sumo reserves the right to charge for non-standard installations.

You must obtain permission from the owner of the property, if that's not you, to have Sumo 'nbn-ready' ADSL Broadband installed and have someone over 18 years of age in attendance at the appointment if required. Where a DSL service is already connected, the Sumo 'nbn-ready' ADSL service is subject to us validating that it can be transferred from your existing provider.

Sumo does not provide battery backup. If there is a power outage and you have a modem or telephone handset connected to the modem, you will not be able to use the internet service or telephone. These devices may not work in the event of a power outage.
